

DEPARTMENT OF STREE ROGA AND PRASUTITANTRA

INTRODUCTION

Name of Department - Stree Roga and Prasutitantra

Established as an independent department in 1986, the Department of Prasuti Tantra and Streeroga at GAC Dharashiv is a premier center for teaching, clinical training, and advanced research in Ayurvedic women's health. Within the domain of Streeroga (Gynaecology), our faculty specializes in the holistic management of menstrual disorders (Artava Vyapad), reproductive tract ailments (Yoni Vyapad), breast diseases (Stana Roga), and infertility (Vandhyatva), while also providing comprehensive care for menopausal syndrome (Jara janya vyadhi). Complementing this, our Prasuti Tantra (Obstetrics) division offers expert guidance through every stage of motherhood, including pre-conceptual care (Garbhadhana Sanskara), antenatal care (Garbhini Paricharya), labor management (Prasava Paricharya), and postnatal recovery (Sootika Paricharya). Beyond academic instructions, the department is deeply committed to community health through our weekly Supraja classes for expectant mothers and contributes to global outreach by providing clinical demonstrations for our three-month international training program.
